Forge Online

Forge Online, the free-to-play fantasy action role-playing game, is releasing a new online world next week.

Elden Ring, Forge Online's version of the Lands Between, drops players into a fantasy landscape where they can enlist both magical and non-magical allies to become an Elden Lord and kick start a new in-game world.

Forge Online Details

Forge Online is a free, open-world fantasy RPG set in the Lands Between, a mystical plane of existence where people journey with and fight magic. It also serves as a basis for ultimate online group gameplay, as it generates a new world every time a player connects to it.

In classic RPing fashion, players can join up with up to three friends to explore and change the world together.

Forge Online's gameplay is built around two major processes: crafting and adventuring.

Crafting is a process of equipping several character items at the end of each session to affect the outcome of events or to create permanent upgrades.

In addition to the typical processing of equipment, crafting can also require extensive memory and knowledge processing to achieve the best results.

The game incorporates a seasoned action-RPG menu and the pacing and depth of Diablo, which makes fast-paced fun easier to play without fear of going sleepy.

Players can always

Zawahiri released a YouTube video last night, which also shows a letter to ISIS leader Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi from Zawahiri, in which he says he's seeking a "greater share" of territory under Al-Qaeda. In the video, Zawahiri said he will use a type of bomb never seen before in a war, which he said has the capability to change entire cities.
